text='My husband and I bought the "house from hell" after buying a home using a home inspector recommended by the realtor. I just wanted you to know that what your doing is awesome. I hear from people all the time through my web-site and you wouldn't believed how many people have had terrible experiences with home inspectors.'

If more Home Inspectors were like you less people would end up buying houses that they wouldn't have had they known the true condition. Keep up the good work! Wish I knew then what I know now.
